CHARLEROI LOSES FAST GAME ON FLOOR AT MONONGAHELA

Locals were Weak in Passing and Deficient in Shots for Goal

MONON PLAYED A GOOD GAME

The Charleroi high school basketball quintet journeyed to Monongahela, last evening, with the avowed intention of demonstrating its superiority over the high school team of that place; but it returned home a sadder, and, possibly, a wiser organization, having to be content with the loser's end o the argument, the score being 27 to 20. Monongahela fully deserved its victory. The home boys served up a rattling good game of basket ball, while Charleroi seemed to do that which was diametrically opposite to the work of their opponents. In short, there was practically nothing to the game but Monongahela. While the score would indicate that the game was somewhat one-sided, such in reality was not the case. Charleroi had many opportunities for scores, but, a display of crudeness in passing the ball and a painful weakness in throwing for baskets, failed to avail itself of them. It gave an occasional flash of what it is known to be capable, but these were too short lived.

After witnessing last evening's contest, the wonder of it all is how a team of Monongahela's calibre has been compelled to succumb to defeat so often in this division of the scholastic league. In McVicker, it has one of the finest performers in the Monongahela valley, and, while he outshines any of his fellow team mates the latter displayed marked efficiency in their respective positions, and rendered valuable aid in defeating the visiting team. McVicker was like a flash—here, there and everywhere, and in addition to putting up a fine game on the floor, he caged four nice field goals, one of them being a distinctively classy effort. He was given fine support by Taylor and Barbero. The former secured eleven points out of eighteen chances, via the foul route, and also scored a field goal. Cain, who cavorted around the center position, was able, on account of his superior height, to get the tip-off quite frequently and McVicker made most of this advantage. Cain also secured three field goals, and otherwise played a good game, as also did Boggs.

Charleroi demonstrated that it is not the playing aggregation it was earlier in the season. When the present schedule started, and up until the playing of the game with McKeesport, the locals were looked upon as a most ormidable organization. However, its work has been slowly but surely deteriorating since their first defeat. True, they have won a great majority of their games, but not with the same dash which characterized their earlier performances. No team which disregards the many important conditions which conduce to a winning aggregation, as has been

WAGES REVISED BY JONES & LAUGHLIN CO.

A general wage reduction was announced on Thursday by officials of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company to take effect March 1. The pay of laborers is reduced from 40 to 37 cents an hour and proportionate decreases are announced for other employes. No change in working hours or conditions is contemplated, according to officials.

THIEVES MADE BIG HAUL OF LIQUOR

It is reported that one of the leading hotel proprietors of Monongahela is mourning the loss of eighty-four cases of whiskey, valued at present day prices between $10,000 and $12,000. The hotel man had secured the stock of bonded whiskey some time ago and having no place to store it had secured permission to use a large stable, situated on Chess street, in the center of the city, and evidently intended to hold the valuable stock until prices were advanced. However, one night last week a truck drove up to the stable and in a short time the coveted liquid was removed from the stable to an unknown place. The owner of the liquor has no clue as who the thieves were and it is presumed that owing to the scarcity of bonded whiskey at the present time the liquor was quickly disposed of in this district.

RADICAL CHANGES IN PENNSYLVANIA GUARD

The National Guard of Pennsylvania is to be reorganized on a new basis, and a number of the organizations now incorporated in the Twenty-eighth division are to be assigned as corps troops. The Tenth and Sixteenth regiments in the western part of the state, together with the Third and Thireenth in the east will make up the four infantry regiments of the division, which will be composed of two brigades. The Fighteenth regiment, located in Pittsburgh, is to be transformed into a heavy artillery regiment which will be completely motorized. The new arrangement will go into effect at once.

There will also be a discussion by the committee on this subject. This committee consists of W. H. Milliken, R. L. Barnhart, Michael Rosenbloom, D. G. Callihan and George Leith. They will hold a special meeting of their committee on next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock, at the office of the Chamber of Commerce to make preliminary arrangements for the Forum. It is the intention of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and of the Street Lighting committee that this discussion shall crystallize itself into action, and that within areasonable time we shall have our "White Way Lighting." Every member of the Chamber of Commerce is most urgently requested to attend this meeting of the Forum Friday evening. Also, the invitation is extended to all citizens, men and women alike, of the community to attend this meeting.

A. B. GRAY, SR. WILL BE NAMED SHERIFF

Governor Sproul on Friday announced that he would send to the Senate on Monday night the nomination of Alexander B. Gray, Sr., to be Sheriff of Washington county, to serve until the first Monday in January 1922. Mr. Gray will succeed his son, Alex. B. Gray, Jr., who died last week. The petition presented to Governor Sproul for Mr. Gray's appointment was signed by every official in Washington county, as well as members of the House and Senate.

VESTA COAL CO. BUYS LARGE ACREAGE

That another coal mining town is to be built in Southern Washington county by the Vesta Coal company is being predicted as a result of the purchase, of approximately 400 acres of surface in West Bethlehem township, in the vicinity of Greenleaf stop, on the Monongahela & Washington railroad.

There are no official acts to confirm such conjecture, other than the purchase of the surface by the company, which is a subsidiary of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company of Pittsburgh. Farms which have been sold to the coal firm are the Byron Matthews, Thomas Weaver and Charles Weaver tracts.

The Matthews acreage was purchased some time ago, but the two Weaver tracts were just recently secured. The Matthews farm is said to have been sold for $10 per acre while the two Weaver farms brought $300 an acre.

RADICAL CHANGES UNDER NEW MEASURE

Saving of 33 1-3 per cent of the present cost of tax collecting would be effective under a system proposed in the bill to be introduced in the House at Harrisburg next week by Representative Marshall of Beaver, according to the report of the tax revision commission.

The new tax code would not apply to Philadelphia, Pittsburgh or Scranton, but revises the law relating to assessment and collection of taxes in all other cities and counties.

Creation of a board of county assessors in each county would be created. In small counties the county commissioners would compose the board. This would abolish all local elected assessors.

Assessments would be made annually instead of triennially under the new law. Abatements would not be allowed. Two months would be given to pay any tax, after which a penalty of one per cent per month would be added. The cost of assessment would be paid by the county, while the cost of preparing duplicates is paid half by the county and half by the local districts.

Centralization, economy and availability of tax records are the principal improvements in the new law, according to the promoters. The commission that prepared the code was appointed by Governor Sproul, and was in session many months. Their report has been made to the Governor.

PROMINENT DENTIST OF BROWNSVILLE IS DEAD

INDICTMENTS RETURNED BY THE GRAND JURY AGAINST COAL MEN

STATE AND MARYLAND POLICE TO CO-OPERATE

Arrangements for cooperation between the state police departments of Pennsylvania and Maryland have been perfected, it was announced from Harrisburg on Thursday. Officers of the Pennsylvania force have been helping train Maryland troopers and a plan of calls between substations of the two states have been worked out.

KEEPING CLOSE TAB ON TRUANCY

With snow on the hills and time for good fishing in the back creek not far away, the Washington county school lad has discovered that all his plans for the ancient and even respected game of "hookey" are going to be spoiled. The new director of compulsory attendance, W. M. Dennison, who has his desk in Harrisburg, has just put into effect a long-armed system for knowing just when the would-be truant is diligently poring over his books.

Mr. Dennison has sent out orders requiring every teacher in the county and state to make monthly reports required to report all absences and to distinguish in the figures and facts a case of mumps from a lapse of an hour or two at "the ol' swimmin' hole."

The effects of the new ruling are already apparent, it is stated, especially in the rural districts, where it is claimed, school boards sometimes hesitated to enforce the law rigidly. When the order was first put into force only 35 per cent of the teachers of Greene county, for instance, made reports, and attendance was only 76 per cent of enrollment. Of the Allegheny county teachers, 90 per cent reported; of Washington county, 78; Beaver, 90; Westmoreland 28, and Fayette 85. Nearly all of these are now reporting.

RED CROSS NURSE ON-DUTY IN MONONGAHELA

Continued sickness in the schools of Monongahela, particularly among the families now suffering because of a lack of work for male members, has resulted in a Red Cross nurse being assigned to that city. This work will be taken care of by Miss Jean Burkhardt, of Braddock, a graduat of the hospital of that place. She arrived in Monongahela on Thursday, and for the present will confine her work to the school children. She has been engaged for one year, and her expenss will be defrayed by the money raised in the Red Cross campaign in that city.

Charged with Conspiracy to Violate the Sherman Anti-Trust Laws

COURT REQUIRES HEAVY BOND

Cooperation between coal operators and miners in six states to force high prices for soft coal by restricting production, was charged on Friday by a Federal grand jury indictment returned to court at Indianapolis, Ind.

Two hundred and twenty-six defendants, including 127 operators and miners and 99 operators' associations were accused of conspiring to violate the Sherman anti-trust law. The defendants live in Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and Pennsylvania.

Judge A. B. Anderson, who received the indictments, set May 3 for arraignment, and in issuing capiases for arrest of the defendants, fixed the bond of each at $10,000.

The charge is made that the agreement entered into between the operators and miners provided that coal should not be sold at any time for a price that did not yield profit to the operators, that increase of wages to miners should be added to the price of coal, that competition among operators should be eliminated; that no coal should be sold below the cost of production, and that the means of increasing cost and production in the price of coal should be by closing and keeping idle the mines.

The operators established and maintained a uniform accounting system for use of the mines, and by agreements employed a greater number of miners than was really necessary to reasonably operate the mines properly.

Among those indicted from this district are: Joseph M. Armstrong, John A. Donaldson, William K. Field, Wm. M. Henderson, William A. Luce, James C. Patterson, Jesse H. Sanford, operators; and Robert Gibbons, William Hargest, Philip Murray, Thomas Hughes, Frank Leithold, John McWee and John O'Leary, miners.

SOUTH OFFERS HELP.

Cordial greetings and assurance of co-operation in the advancement of his policies do not often come to a Republican President-elect from a gathering of Southerners, but that is the result of the recent Southern Tariff Congress, held in Atlanta. The sentiments of the convention were embodied in the address to the President-elect, to the Congress of the United States and to the American people.

"This convention, called by 16 Southern governors and composed of delegates from 18 Southern states represents every important Southern industry, and truly reflects the thought and aspirations of the people of the South regarding the great economic questions now confronting the country. We express our profound appreciation of the generous recognition given this congress by President-elect Harding in his interview for the press, assuring us that the 'incoming administration is highly sympathetic with the aspirations of the people of the South.' We believe with him in 'prospering America first' and in 'protecting our home markets in such a way as to assure American standards of production and American standards of living.' We join with him in the hope and we express the belief that his administration will be in the interest of all the people without favor to any class, section or interest, and in so doing we believe it will remove all cause for sectionalism and prejudice. We pledge ourselves and our association to co-operate in the achievement of this worthy purpose.

"The visit of Vice-President-elect Coolidge and his splendid address to us is a distinction never before shown a Southern convention by a Republican Vice-President. We hope and believe that it will be productive of better understanding and of better service on the part of us all for our common country.

"Due largely to foreign competition, all the Southern industries represented in this convention are in a desperate condition, including agriculture, livestock, mining, manufacturing and forest products. These industries are all essential to the prosperity of our country in peaceand to its success in war. The producer has been encouraged to increase production in order to meet the world's demand for food, clothing and other products. He has done so at great cost. He is now unable to market his product at a living price or to obtain the credit to hold it for a better market. This condition will inevitably lessen future production and cause great hardship and sacrifice..

"We are for the full employment and a living wage for the wage earner, a living price for products of the farm, the mine and the factory. We believe that it is essential for the assurance of prosperity to have an adequate tariff that will protect the product and industry of our people against foreign competition. In the long run this will mean cheaper cost of living to the consumer as well as greater buying power.

"We, therefore, petition the President and Congress to enact at the earliest date possible the Emergency Tariff Law with the Senate amendments, and to enact a permanent tariff law that will afford both revenue to the Government and protection to agriculture and industry."

A BURGLAR'S VIEW.

One Robert Brown recently shot and killed a druggist while carrying out his plans to appropriate the jewels of the druggist's wife. So common an incident in these times would not call for editorial comment were it not that Brown, interviewed in or on his way to jail, has given expression to some very interesting and perhaps significant views. In his opinion the "crime wave" can be suppressed and he has very positive ideas as to how that desirable result can be brought about. "The way to stop men committing crimes" he says, "is to remove temptation," and with especial reference to his own case, he adds: "A movement should be started to keep women from wearing high priced sable and fur coats and jewelry." In other words, the crime is in exhibiting beautiful and costly things rather than in stealing them, for the one leads to the other.

Burglar Brown does not stop to reflect that, though bankers do not go about dressed in cloth of gold, there is a very strong urge to break into their vaults among the members of his profession. Nor does he stop to reflect that relatively few yield to the temptation to steal the beautiful things that they see, and that the vast majority of persons never yield even though some of them may be tempted, showing that personal responsibility is very largely involved. The old fashioned among us will find Brown's views merely laughable but there are modern reformers who are likely to or ought to consider them seriously, for Brown's theory is perfectly in harmony with theirs. Just as he does, they put the blame, not on the criminally self-indulgent, those who weakly or viciously surrender to temptation, but on that which tempts or seems to aid in bringing about the fall or the criminal act. Brown has a right to accuse them as well as the wearers of sable and jewels, for they have taught him that things outside of him and not in him are responsible for his crimes.

Those who say there's no freedom left might be reminded that Convict Debs has just compared himself to Washington and the President to Benedict Arnold.

Its imperial war lord having fallen upon evil days, the fiftieth anniversary of the German empire was not celebrated.

Happy is the man who enjoys his morals for his own betterment, instead of spending his energies in seeking to impose them upon others.

Governor Cox's advice to Democrats to uphold the Harding administration and refrain from carping criticism may as be well described as a word in season.

"California reports the value of raisins harvested last year was more than $300 a ton." And before these "raisin jack" times the growers are said to have been glad to get $25 to $35 a ton.

The Washington dispatch announcing that Charles G. Dawes of Chicago would be chosen Secretary of the Treasury appeared before General Dawes got hot and virtually "cussed out" that war investigation committee.

Mr. Chesterton says "America began with the Declaration of Independence and ended with prohibition" but it might be a bit risky for Europeans to figure on an "ended" America yet awhile.

According to the chairman of the Americanization committee of the American Legion, there are 8,000 disloyal school teachers in the United States, 2,000 of these being in colleges and universities. What the Legion expects to do about it is not stated.

There must be some considerable matrimony at a rather tender age in New York, for Magistrate Harris has decided that married girls under sixteen years need not go to school.

Debs says he "would sink the navy to the bottom of the sea and disband the army," which is what he preached in 1917, and which is why he is in jail.

Mr. Coolidge has gone South to rest before taking up his four-year job of silent observation in the Senate.

Washington Post—It's not government's guiding of business that's objected to; it's the misguiding.

The Middle Initial.

With the exception of William H. Taft, Senator Harding is the first President since Rutherford B. Hayes, to use more than one Christian name. Grover Cleveland William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson (who dropped his first name Thomas, early in the career) got along without middle names or initials. The middle initial, incidentally, is almost exclusively an American characteristic. An Englishman may call himself John James Smith, but practically never John J. Smith. A Frenchman may be baptised Auguste Charles Jesus Marie Georges Dupont, but he will be known to the world as Georges Dupont, and probably will sign himself G. Dupont.

The use of more than one given name is puzzling to a Frenchman. When Senator Lodge is mentioned in the French press, he is never "M. Lodge," but "M. Cabot Lodge," or as one prominent Paris daily writes it, "M. Cabot-Ledge." The President-Elect may look forward to be known on the continent as "President Gamaliel Harding."—Editorial Digest.

Bokhara in Hands of Reds?

Nominally the government of Bokhara is in the hands of the amir, who is an absolute autocrat, but actually power is largely exercised by the Mohammedan clergy. The houses in the capital are closely packed together, and everyone must be indoors by dusk. At night the streets are paraded by police patrols, who beat drums to scare away thieves and robbers. The city is surrounded by a ruined but still strong wall about 7½ miles in circumference. It is now reported that Bokhara has been captured by the Reds.

Old Fort Still Useful.

Less than half a century ago almost every American community west of the Mississippi was protected against Indian raids by a fort or stockade. Most of these structures have now fallen into dust, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. In southern Utah, however, is a stone structure, known as "Cove Fort," which was built in 1867, at the time of the Blackhawk-Mormon war, yet is today in a state of perfect preservation. It is now used, in fact, as a ranch house and hotel.

"I Shall Not Pass This Way Again."

Efforts to identify the author of this much-quoted quotation have failed. It has been attributed to Stephen Grillet, an American Quaker of French birth (1773-1855); R. W. Emerson, Edward Courtenay, earl of Devon; Sir Roland Hill (1744-1833); Marcus Aurelius, Miss A. B. Hageman, Addison, Thomas Carlyle and others. And it is also said that the germ of it is to be found in the writings of a Chinese philosopher. There seems to be some authority in favor of Grillet being the author, but the passage does not occur in any of his printed works.

Doctors for Bees.

When a honey bee staggers around holding his head and staring despondently into space he may be suffering from influenza, dementia precox or any one of a dozen other physical and mental disorders. At any rate he needs quick medical attention. He is getting it in the honey-producing regions of Manitoba, Canada. Bee experts say that the province will pour a river of honey on the world's pancakes this year and that the big production is due almost entirely to the elimination of bee diseases. Last year's average of approximately 65 pounds to the hive is expected to be materially increased by the hundreds of large apiaries scattered throughout the province.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Accidents Late in the Day.

Dr. E. Guth of Berlin proves by statistics in the Zentralblatt fuer Gewerbehygiene, that accidents occur more frequently in the last working hours, being also of a more serious nature. Considering this increase in accidents, and the decrease in work done during the last working hours, he concludes that not only workmen but also employers have interest in reducing the number of working hours.

Mrs. Williams Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health

Overpeck, O.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me both before and after my baby was born. I suffered with backache, headache, was generally run down and weak. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and decided to try it. Now I feel fine, take care of my two boys and do my own work. I recommend your medicine to anyone who is ailing. You may publish my testimonial if you think it will help others."—Mrs. CARRIE WILLIAMS, Overpeck, Ohio.

For more than forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring women to health who suffered from irregularities, displacements, backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness or "the blues." Today there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman does not reside who has been made well by it. That is why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for such ailments.

TO GIVE PRIZES FOR FLOWER BEDS

The Athene Club of Charleroi, which is cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce with a view of stimulating a general movement for beautifying the town, has adopted a practical method for interesting the young people of the community in taking greater pride in their immediate surroundings.

At a recent meeting of the club it was decided to offer a number of cash prizes for the best flower beds or boxes, the competition to be open to all under 14 years of age. At the close of the contest a committee will make the awards. The prizes will be in cash, $5.00 being the first prize, both for the boy and girl winning the event, and the second prize $2.50, to be given those who are accorded the second best flower garden or flower box. The committee in charge of the contest from the club is composed of Mrs. Vivia Stewart, Mrs. Carl Mountser and Mrs. A. O. Davis.

CHARITY WAS CLOAK FOR RAISING MONEY

Rather than abide the consequences of remaining over the time limit of three hours as determined by the officials of the District Attorney's office of Fayette county in ordering them from Uniontown, as "fake charity workers," all of the officials and workers of the Gospel Army and Rescue workers, excepting Colonel Thomas of the latter organization, bid adieu to Uniontown on Tuesday and left for other sections of the country. The colonel is detained in Uniontown because of the illness of his wife and will be allowed ten days of grace.

There was a quick succession of events in connection with the expose of the "fake charity" organization as termed by the authorities. Uniontown police received many complaints and recently they have been more numerous. Weekly the authorities had been summoned to the headquarters of the organization, where fistic encounters between officials had to be suppressed. These arguments it is said grew out of money matters entirely.

It is the opinion of the police and officials in Uniontown that these people were engaged in a wholesale fake charity game, and that but little if any of the money collected ever went for charity. These people canvassed a wide extent of territory, coming as far as Charleroi in their efforts to raise money. During the past week they have not been in this community.

CHARLEROI LOSES TO MONONGAHELA

the case with some of the local players, can ever hope to achieve lasting success. While this may seem just a trifle caustic, it is true, nevertheless. The Charleroi team possesses the material to make good, but when little or no attention was paid to the rules which must of necessity be applied to such an organization, its efficiency began to wane.

In the game last evening, there was an apparent weakness in the playing of the Charleroi boys. Some of the players passed the ball oftener to their opponents than they did to their team mates, while their basket throwing efforts were simply painful. A change occurred in the second half of play, both teams scoring fourteen points apiece, and had the Charleroi boys played half as well in the first half of the game, a different story might have resulted. Wagner shone for the locals, making two field goals and throwing fourteen fouls out of twenty-one chances, or eighteen points out of the team's total of twenty. Brown also played a strong game, until he met with an injury to his knee. He was compelled to leave the game, but in his anxiety to win, returned to his position in the concluding period. The home team however, could not be headed. The summary:

Charleroi—20.	Monongahela—27.
Wagner .....F	.....McVicker
Stephens .....F	.....Taylor
Burnett C	.....Cain
Webster .....G	.....Boggs
Brown .....G	.....Barbero

Substitutions — Charleroi, Welch for Brown, Daniel for Stephens, Stephens for Welch, Brown for Daniel. Field goals: Wagner 2, Burnett, McVicker 4, Cain 3, Taylor. Foul goals. Wagner 14 out of 21. Taylor 11 out of 18. Timekeepers — Daniel and Pannels. Scorekeepers—Miller and Hoffman. Referee, Baird.

Charleroi will play at Washington this evening and Washington will appear in Charleroi next Tuesday evening. On Friday evening next, the locals will go to McKeesport, and will close the season on Tuesday evening of the following week, playing the Normal team at California.

BROWNSVILLE ELKS TO BUILD CLUB HOUSE

South Brownsville Lodge No. 1344, B. P. O. Elks, has purchased the property of Mrs. Margaret C. Todd, Water street, South Brownsville, upon which the organization comtemplates the erection of a modern club house, possibly the coming summer. The property has a frontage on Water street of 60 feet, and runs back to an alley a distance of 140, on which is erected a commodious two story brick dwelling. It is the intention of the Lodge to raze the present structure to make room for the proposed club house. The new building will be erected on most modern lines and when completed will provide a home for the Brownsville Elks, something they have not heretofore possessed, as they have been compelled to get along with rented quarters.

COLDS RELIEVED QUICK

Turpo Gives Immediate Relief in All Cold Troubles and Congestion. Mothers Use it to Prevent Development of Children's Colds.

For several winters a large number of people, especially mothers of small children, have prevented the serious effects from neglected colds by using Turpo—the new Turpentine Ointment which, applied externally, drives a cold away overnight, relieves congestion of all kinds, and has valuable antiseptic properties.

There is nothing mysterious or secret about Turpo—it is a scientific combination of distilled Turpentine, Camphor and Menthol, in a salve or ointment which, being readily absorbed through the skin, carries the recognized and beneficial effects of these medicines to the root of the trouble. Turpo, applied up the nostrils at the first sign of a cold, relieves congestion and headache, clears the air passages, checking the cold at the very root, and prevents its developing into more serious trouble.

Pneumonia and influenza may develop from a neglected cold—especially in children, and careful mothers are now using Turpo as a standard household application, to be used at the first sign of "sniffles" in the child. For severe colds, Turpo rubbed on the throat and chest [illegible] the skin, clearing up the con[illegible]thout blistering the skin or [illegible] clothing.

Turpo is also of value to give relief in catarrh, hacking cough, sore throat, and as an antiseptic application for cuts, wounds and burns. Ask your doctor or druggist about Turpo—they will confirm that it is a good, honest remedy.

Sold in white opal jars with the orange and black label, 30c and 60c. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you are not entirely satisfied.

PAIGE

If you stepped into a New Series 5-passenger Paige Glenbrook without knowing its make or price and experienced its power, speed and general excellence in actual performance, we would be willing to make this prophecy:

After a single demonstration of its capabilities you would price the Glenbrook at five hundred dollars more than it costs.

That is because there are no existing standards by which the New Series Glenbrook can be compared. It has established its own standards.

There is only one way to prove such strong statements—to ride in the car.

Is Always Busy—
There's a Reason

Unclean Reading.

The child worships heroes and accepts the printed word as an oracle. Plausible action, for him, is not confined to the four walls of his home or to the street that he knows. And books in the first reading years do not seem to reflect comment upon, or raise amends for life. The tale that unwinds from their pages is more real than reality. Never again, for most of us, will come that complete immersion in the atmosphere of a story that is the even mildly intelligent child's unthinkable birthright.—Exchange.

Mesopotamian Language.

The characters of the language of Mesopotamia, like the Egyptian, were originally hieroglyphic, and the several hundred groups of wedges by means of which the language was expressed in writing, may now be traced to the original hieroglyphics. One of the early picture-words was a crescent and star, and the picture was employed to express an incantation or exorcism, or anything capable of driving the evil spirit from the body of which it had taken possession.

Proper Reading for Children.

It is in the home that the growing mind receives its most lasting impressions. Surround the child with good reading and you surround him with friends. An attractive title and good illustrations are no guaranty that the book contains good reading. If you have not time to read books yourself consult your librarian and let your choice be not only what will stimulate the imagination but above all something to warm the heart and impress the great truths of life.—Youth's Companion.

"Soaked" Family Doctor.

After a Kentucky judge had fined his family doctor $50 and costs for speeding and had sentenced him to jail for three days, he went on to say: "You and I are friends. I am your lawyer and you are my doctor, but I am here to administer justice as I see it. And you will serve that sentence in spite of our friendship or what any of our friends may do." Just wait until it comes Doc's turn to sit in judgment on that judge!

For a New Umbrella.

Before using a new umbrella inject a small quantity of vaseline into the hinge portion of the frame. If put on carefully the vaseline will not spread and is a sure preventive against rust. Also, always stand wet umbrellas on their handle to dry. This allows the water to run out of them instead of into the part where the silk and ribs meet, thus causing the metal to rust and the silk to rot.—Good Housekeeping.

Hunting Gazelles From Autos.

The speed of the gazelle has always made it exceedingly difficult to hunt them, but now it is a common thing to see gazelle hunters in automobiles darting across the desert of Morocco in chase of these speedy animals. The results of the hunt are invariably greater than when horses are used, because the animals become tired out before overtaking the gazelles.

Roquefort Cheese.

Roquefort cheese has been successfully made in this country. Not content with making it in this climate, our scientists proved that goat's milk was unnecessary. Cow's milk will produce excellent cheese if it is properly ripened.

Had Warning Enough.

A West Norwood man who described himself as a poet told the magistrate that he had twice been knocked down by a motorcyclist. Our opinion is that he should have given up poetry when he was knocked down the first time.—London Punch.

Whence "Stentorian."

A Greek herald with the forces before Troy was blessed with a very powerful voice. In fact we are told it was as loud as those of fifty other men. The man's name was Stentor and from his name we derive our modern word stentorian.

Beauty's Advantage.

The best egg may not be inside the whitest shell, nor is the best bargain always to be found behind the most showy front, but the woman with a pretty face continues to inspire confidence.

Natural Result.

"Some men are bashful when it comes to meeting their obligations," remarks an exchange. This may be because they are financially shy.—Boston Transcript.

Resigned.

It may be, as a scientist says, that from a physical standpoint we are much inferior to prehistoric man; still, most of us would rather be inferior than prehistoric.

Learn From Past Errors.

Mistakes of the past can never be corrected. Errors of the future only can be avoided. From the past we should learn how to live so that our lives can be free from needless regrets.

A Surprise.

A boy, after growing up, is always greatly surprised to find that the members of a brass band don't play for the fun of it.

Mistake Can Be Overcome.

Don't worry over a mistake. Think of the millions who have made mistakes and been successful.

Limit in Bragging.

"Smith is always putting up a bluff of some kind, isn't he?" said Brown. "Yes," agreed Jones. "If he had a pack of cigarette papers and a sack of tobacco, he would brag about owning some rolling stock."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Siberia's Wealth of Wild Flowers.

Were I a poet I should write a book of verses about the wild flowers of Siberia. There is a wild rose that blooms hugely on big, sturdy bushes. Then there is the mauve and gold of the "Mary and John," that is loved most by the Siberians. This lovely flower is named after the Virgin Mary and the Loved Disciple. Nature seems to have planned a passing panorama of blossoms to delight the outcasts and pioneers living in the thinly populated wastes of Siberia. Every week, it seemed to me, there was another program of wild flowers for the view from my window: all summer and fall they suggested ever-changing tapestry wrought on a background of verdure, hills and water.—Cody Marsh in the National Geographic Magazine.

The Revenge of Lycurgus.

"Which of us does not admire what Lycurgus the Spartan did? A young citizen had put out his eye and been handed over to him by his people to be punished at his own discretion. Lycurgus abstained from all vengeance, but on the contrary instructed and made a good man of him. Producing him in public in the theater, he said to the astonished Spartans: 'I received this young man at your hands full of violence and wanton insolence; I restore him to you in his right mind and fit to serve his country.'"—From "The Golden Sayings of Epictetus."

Remove an Obstinate Spot.

No matter what the care exercised, unsightly spots will appear on dresses, and the tailor-made seems to be their delight. The Sphere (London) gives the following instructions as to their removal: A piece of cloth—the same as that of which the garment is made—should be saturated with hot water and then the soiled surface should be briskly rubbed with it. The most obstinate spot will disappear—that is to say, if it is not a stain that has taken the color from the cloth.
